

Acceptance Test

1. Able to create a new chat room, based on current GPS location, for others to join.
2. Able to check if there are any available chat rooms nearby current location, display these on a list and a Google map.
3. User should be able to join a chat room as long as current GPS location is in range.
4. The application should read and store information via a central database, for other users to download.
5. In the chat view you should be able to send a message to all users that are currently joined within the selected chatroom.
6. The application should hide all chatrooms that are out of range for you to join.
7. Application should be compatible with Android 2.2 and upwards.